

Drinks Too Much

My wife declared: “I think he drinks too much,” while reaching across the table to take a swig from my beer.

For who you are

Working on videos at home was a challenge, especially with a dog that enjoyed close company. If I needed quiet and closed the door, Remi would let me know that he preferred the door open. After a reprimand, I decided that I needed to change my ways.

F Sharp

While washing dishes, I had a conversation about piano composers with my wife, Kate, who is an avid pianist. I was curious to know if she had ever considered composing an original piece. “No.” “Really?” “No.” I then asked if she was to write a composition what would be the first note? After a bit of thought, she replied: “An F sharp.”

Match Point (with Ted Arnold)

Tennis is a revealing game, especially when it is played by two players who see so much of themselves in the other.
